

Nanjing Xiaozhuang University

2024 Prospectus for International Students

I. Introduction to Nanjing Xiaozhuang University

Nanjing Xiaozhuang University (NJXZU) is a full-time public undergraduate university approved by the Ministry of Education of the People's Republic of China. The university, formerly known as Xiaozhuang Experimental Rural Normal School, was founded in 1927 by Mr. Tao Xingzhi, a great educator of the people. The university has 59 undergraduate majors in 9 major disciplines, including education, literature, history, economics, law, science, engineering, management, and art, with more than 18,000 full-time undergraduate students, making it a high-level applied university with distinctive characteristics of teacher education in China.

The name of the university issuing the qualification is: Nanjing Xiaozhuang University. The university will issue a general higher education undergraduate diploma to international students who meet the requirements for graduation within the specified period of time. The university will issue a general higher education bachelor's degree certificate to international students who meet the requirements for degree conferment.

II. Programs

1. Non-degree Program: Chinese Language Study

1.1 Eligibility and Requirements:

- Age: generally 18-45.

- Applicants should be in good physical and mental health, in accordance with the Health Standard for International Students stipulated by the Ministry of Education, China.

- Applicants should possess a high school graduation certificate.

- Applicants should be non-Chinese nationals holding a valid foreign passport.

1.2 Program Duration

The Program duration is at least one academic year. Students will receive a Study Certificate upon completion of all the courses.

2. Undergraduate Degree Programs

2.1 Majors:

Major	Standard years of study	Teaching language
Chinese Language and Literature	4	Chinese
International Economy and Trading	2	English
Software Engineering	2	English

International Economy and Trading and Software Engineering are only available for students from partner universities in Indonesia.

2.2 Eligibility and Requirements:

- Age: generally 18-25.

- Applicants should be in good physical and mental health, in accordance with the Health Standard for International Students stipulated by the Ministry of Education, China.

- Applicants should be non-Chinese nationals holding a valid foreign passport.

- Applicants should graduate from high school with a good record.

● Applicants for majors taught in Chinese must pass HSK4 before enrollment. If applicants do not meet the language requirements, they must first complete preparatory courses and pass HSK4 before beginning study in their chosen major.

● Applicants for majors taught in English must get a score of 5.5+ on the IELTS exam, or 72+ on the TOEFL exam, or 450+ on the TOEFL ITP exam. TOEFL MyBest scores are also accepted, as is proof of full English language instruction.

2.3 Duration and Course Arrangement

The university provides 1-year preparatory courses. The year of preparatory courses is not included in the duration of the undergraduate program.

The university implements a credit system and a flexible study period. International students will be awarded the undergraduate diploma and bachelor's degree certificate after completing all the credits stipulated in the cultivation plan of the program within 3 to 6 years, passing the dissertation defense, and meeting the requirements for degree conferment.

3. Upgrading Programs for Vocational College Graduates

3.1 Majors

Major	Standard years of study	Teaching Language
Chinese Language and Literature	2	Chinese
Hotel Management	2	Chinese
International Economy and Trading	2	Chinese

3.2 Eligibility and Requirements:

● Age: generally 18-25.

- Applicants should be in good physical and mental health, in accordance with the Health Standard for International Students stipulated by the Ministry of Education, China.

- Applicants should be non-Chinese nationals holding a valid foreign passport.

- Applicants should be graduates with excellent academic performance at the junior college stage, passing all the courses and receiving a graduation certificate.

- Applicants must pass HSK4 or above before enrollment.

3.3 Duration and Course Arrangement

The university implements a credit system and a flexible study period. International students will be awarded an undergraduate diploma and bachelor's degree certificate after earning all credits for courses within 2-3 years and having successfully defended their dissertations.

III. Fees

1. Tuition (CNY, unit: yuan)

Tuition for Chinese-taught majors is CNY 12,000 per academic year; tuition for English-taught majors is CNY 14,000 per academic year.

2. On-Campus Accommodation (CNY, unit: yuan)

Triple room at Fangshan Campus: CNY 2400/academic year (excluding winter and summer vacations)

IV. Scholarships

International students can apply for government scholarships such as “Nanjing Municipal Government Scholarship for International Students” and “Jiangsu Government Scholarship”. The application methods, award recipients and the amount of funding are referred to in the government documents.

International students can also apply for the “Nanjing Xiaozhuang University Scholarship for International Students”. The application methods, award recipients and the amount of funding are referred to in the Implementation Measures of Nanjing Xiaozhuang University Scholarship for International Students.

An annual review system is adopted for the scholarship assignment. Qualified students earn a scholarship for the next academic year only after verification and assessment.

V. Application

1. Application Deadline: June 15, 2024

We choose from the applicants by competitive selection. When we have enough qualified applicants, the application process is closed.

2. Application Procedure

Login to NJXZU online application system for international students, fill in relevant information and submit application materials online.

NJXZU “Online Application System”: <https://njxzc.17gz.org/>

VI. Review and Admission

The university will review the documents submitted by the applicants and confirm the proposed admission list. Information of the proposed students will be submitted to the higher authorities for approval.

The approved international students will be officially accepted and the university will issue the acceptance letter and the JW202 form.

Applicants can check their admission results in the online application system.

The university will strictly review the qualifications and conditions of the new students at the time of registration, and examine the authenticity and completeness of the submitted documents. If documents are missing or inaccurate or found to be otherwise incompatible with the admission requirements, the admission status will be canceled.

VII. Registration Date

September 2024, subject to acceptance letter.

VIII. Contact Information

Address: No. 3601 Hongjing Avenue, Jiangning District, Nanjing

International Cooperation and Exchange Office

Nanjing Xiaozhuang University

Postal code: 211171

Tel: +86 25 86569163

Fax: +86 25 86614926

Online Application System: <https://njxzc.17gz.org/>

Admissions Information Website:

<http://wsb.njxzc.edu.cn/lxxz/list.htm>